Banquet Guests Greet Al as New "Business Man"

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., May 29—Engraved invitations from "Mr. Alphonse Capone" brought several score guests to the Palm Island estate last night for a good will dinner of spaghetti and mineral water and a musicale, which combined operatic arias and the highland fling

"Scarface Al" whom the Miami authorities seek to force from the city was host, friends exchanged their R S V P cards at the gates of the estate for tiny American flags pinned for the lapel

Brilliant lights turned the palatial estate into a scene of tropical beauty. But the real of the guests, who were all dressed invitations "ex-convicts and business men" was a closely guarded secret. Miami Beach policemen patrolled the outside of the estate, but the care of the guests were driven inside. Many did not depart until midnight

Gathered around a huge banquet table the visitors heard one of the guests make a brief address and present Capone with a fountain pen, welcoming him as "a real business man of the community." Capone responded with thanks for the gift.

Control Board Awards Street Work Contract

Asphalt Block Pavement Co. of Toledo Gets Award for Work in City; 15 Streets Listed for Improvements.

Contract for the repair of 15 asphalt block Marion streets was granted the Asphalt Block Pavement Co. of Toledo, by the city board of control Thursday afternoon.

Work on these streets will begin late next week, to continue for a month or six weeks. The speed of the work depends largely on weather conditions.

The Toledo concern was the only bidder. Its bid, accepted by the board, is as follows: for a six inch concrete base, $3 a square yard; for two inch asphalt block, $3.50 a square yard; for special asphalt joint filler and seal, 19 cents a square yard.

Some Streets Old

The program of asphalt block street repair will give attention to streets of this construction which have deteriorated in spots. The age of the streets ranges between 16 and 25 years, according to Service Director D. J. Harlow.

In spots, the block have disintegrated under the strain of years of use. These crumbled blocks will be removed, replaced and sealed. The entire surfaces of the 15 streets will receive the sealing treatment, making them water proof.

By this program, which will cost approximately $10,000, officials hope to add at least 10 years to the life of each of the streets receiving attention. Money for the work will be taken from gasoline tax money received from the state. These funds can not be used for other purposes than street maintenance.

The program on each street will be practically the same. At all broken spots in the pavement, old blocks will be removed. If a new concrete base is necessary, that will be poured. New blocks will be laid, and the joints will be sealed with a special asphalt filler. Then the entire surface of the street will be given a sealing treatment of asphalt.

List of Streets

Work will begin on Hill street, between Prospect and Main streets. Other streets to receive attention are as follows: Forest street between Mt. Vernon avenue and Church street; Carhart street between Center street and the north terminus; Main avenue between State street and Vine street; Windsor street between Bellefontaine avenue and the south terminus; Girard avenue between Bellefontaine avenue and Duluth street; Superior street between Prospect street and Delaware avenue; Cleveland avenue between Superior street and Walnut street; Orchard street between Center street and Church street; Jefferson street between Center street and the Big Four railroad tracks; St. James street between State street and Vine street; Church street between Oliney avenue and Park boulevard; Pearl street between Church street and Prospect street; Prospect street between Church street and Bellefontaine avenue; Lafayette street between Vine street and Bradford street.

W. D. Short and Fletcher Rogers represented the Toledo firm at the opening of bids Thursday. Rogers has supervised the laying of a majority of Marion's asphalt block streets, and will be in charge of work this year.

On Commencement

A SERMONETTE

BY REV. KARL W. PATOW
Pastor of
Prospect Street M. E. Church.

Text, Gen. 28, 3. "God Almighty Bless Thee."

THE words of our text are from a strangely simple and touching story of an ancient family. A mother's boy is going from home for the first time. Thus far in life he has been running himself in the spring sunshine of mother's love and preference. He has never known hardship or care. His going away is giving mother much heartache, —and there are sobs, and silences, and kisses during the hours before he says 'good bye."

For the boy, the going away from home is not an easy matter. His eyes, too, are full of tears. And as he is about to go, an old blind man reaches out blind hands, and with a heaving breast he says: "And God Almighty Bless You." Isaac wants his boy to make good in life, and he knows how much one needs the blessing of God Almighty to become really good and great.

And Jacob, the boy, is going on a great adventure. His leaving home is the commencement of great and grave responsibilities. These are great possibilities before him. Possibilities to drift, and be lost in the commonplace affairs of life; or possibilities to rise and conquer, and achieve true greatness. Jacob is at the crossroads of life, and one wonders what he will make of himself.

At present our thoughts are occupied with our high school and college graduates. And graduation is not merely a recognition of past achievements: but the commencement of new responsibilities, and the facing of great possibilities. We wonder what these graduates will make of themselves. Parents, relatives, and friends all join in extending congratulations for past achievements; and all desire and hope that they will make good in life. And all know that to make good, to be men and women of good moral character and influence they need more than intelligence, and wealth, and ambition. They need God and his blessing. Therefore we say today to our graduates, as Jacob of old said to his son: 'And God Almighty Bless Thee."

"God Bless Thee! So I breathe
a charm,
Lest griefs' dark night oppress
you
For how can sorrow bring you
harm,
If 'tis God's way to Bless you!

"And so 'through all the days
May shadows touch thee never,'
But this alone—God bless you
dear—
Then art thou safe forever."

Mutiny against the soviet Russian rule has developed throughout the maritime provinces of Siberia and as far west as Turkestan in central Asia. The soviets, which have been so active in inciting mutiny in the lands of other nationals, are now getting their own medicine. The chickens of rebellion have come home to roost.

The first forty-four railroads to report net operating earnings for April of the present year showed a loss of thirty-three per cent, from April earnings in 1929. Not so good, in the face of all the stories of revived business conditions which have been given out from time to time.

The United States weather bureau claims that hail storms are much more costly to the country than tornadoes. Certainly the bureau figures on the monetary cost only and does not include the life loss.

The proprietors of the 400 malt and hop shops in New York City have been warned to discontinue the sale of liquor-making equipment or be prepared for arrest. Just now the campaign is being waged in the larger cities, but it's only a question of time till the smaller cities and villages will feel the effect of the recent decision of the United States supreme court.

The Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line company has started construction on a 1,250-mile natural gas line from the Texas Panhandle field to Indiana by the way of Kansas City, Decatur, Terre Haute and Indianapolis. Those tales about the near exhaustion of natural gas which used to be unloaded on us must have been pipe dreams.

The Harding Highway Improvement.

In the face of the fact that Marion county is not to make any direct contribution to the cost of the reconstruction of the Harding highway from the eastern limits of the city to Five Points, it might seem presumptuous for citizens of the county to suggest what material shall be used in the work of reconstruction or what style of road shall be built. But the county will indirectly share in the cost burden just as it does in the cost of every state road in Ohio and in every federal road in the United States: the theory being that more advanced states must aid states less advanced and more advanced counties help out counties which have made less advancement in a material way.

However, had the county no financial interest, it would justly have an interest in having the projected improvement of a type which will stand for permanency, which will necessitate least maintenance cost and cause the least interruption to travel by being closed to the public for the making of repairs.

It has been urged that one of the three types of roads for which bids have been asked and submitted is more favorably viewed by the government than the other two, and that that type would have its effect in causing the government to reject the proposal to change No. 30—the Harding highway route—so that it would run from Mansfield to Delphos by the way of Bucyrus and Upper Sandusky. If this be true, the people of Marion have an added interest in the matter of the type of road to be constructed, but this paper has not come upon anything to indicate a preference on the part of the government other than that it naturally favors a type of road which will stand up under traffic and require the least maintenance and repair.

However, it may not be amiss to make reference to a development of the discussion over the type of roadway which should be constructed in this improvement under consideration. Dealers in one class of roadway material have circulated in the county a petition asking for the use of the material handled by such dealers. The dealers responsible for sending out paid solicitors to get subscribers to such a petition can not be blamed for so doing. But there is food for thought for this proposition: if the time comes when each set of material people feel that it is necessary to put on a canvass for names every time a road is to be constructed, it is going to have a tendency further to increase the cost of road building.

The Why of the Veto.

In a story sent out from Washington the vetoing of the Spanish War veterans' pension bill by President Hoover is held to have "made evident his intention to hold down expenditures for veterans' relief." Possibly such may be his intention in regard to relief for veterans not only of the Spanish war, but of the World war as well. It may be well, however, to let his veto message stand for itself, rather than to draw inferences from it. The presidential objection as set out in his message is that the bill embodies principles "which are opposed to the interests both of war veterans and of the public."

In summarizing his major objections to the bill, the President cites the fact that in all pension legislation of the past pensions have been denied those whose disabilities resulted from vicious habits, and then goes on to say that this bill "breaks down that exclusion and opens the door for claims of disability incurred at any time in the life of the pensioner arising from venereal disease, alcoholism, drug habits, etc. Certainly such claims for public help can not be fairly based upon sacrifices to the nation in war and must be opposed to national policy.

Attention is then called to the fact that, under another law, one who served but a day and during such service suffered injury or impaired health is eligible to a pension, but that heretofore the law has been, and yet is, that there must be a minimum service period of ninety days for a non-service connected disability pension. The bill in question, however, the President points out, reduces this minimum to seventy days, despite the fact that the ninety-day minimum has been maintained against all veterans since the time of the Civil war, "because less service than this was not considered to imply personal danger or risk which warranted pension. If injury or impaired health incident to service is clearly proven, other laws cover such cases."

"It seems to me," the President says in concluding his summary, "that in the interest of justice to the taxpayer, and to maintain the fine body of citizens comprised in our war veterans free from the stigma of encroachment upon the public treasury, there should be a requirement of 'need' as well as disability as a basis for these pensions. It is to me the height of injustice that citizens who are less well placed should be called upon to support from taxes those whose station in life enables them to support themselves or to live in independent security."

It may be that it is the intention of the President to hold down expenditures, but it is hardly fair to hold out even so much as an inference that he intends to hold down expenditures at the expense of veterans of either the Spanish-American or the World war, especially so when he so plainly states his objections to the bill, which must be admitted to be well taken, and his outline of the proper course by which veterans deserving of pensions may obtain relief under long-established rulings.

The Chinese rebels were credited with winning this week, which goes to show that the alternate-week schedule is being rigidly maintained. Last week all the reports were of government victories.

New York City figures that delegates to conventions held there, which average three a day throughout the year, yearly spent in the city between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000. Conventions in our smaller cities, of course, do not give a proportionate return by way of sales, but it's an open question if they do not afford more than a proportionate benefit in advertising.

The name, "Istanbul," has been substituted by the state department in Washington for "Constantinople" to conform to the new legal name for the city adopted by the Turkish government. And thus another of the old time-tried names of our spelling-school days passes!

Ocean travel from the United States to English Channel ports has fallen off while there has been a gain in travel to Mediterranean, and England, France, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland can not understand it. They might get some light on the matter by comparing their prices with those of Spain and Italy.

"What's in a Name?"

The name of the new Spanish minister for foreign relations by right of heredity is Iacoba Maria del Pilar, Carlos, Manual, Stuart Fitz-James, Falso y Osorio, Duque de Berwick, de Alba, de Formea, de Lizieno Hérica, de Arjona, de Montero et de Huescar, Condeduque de Olivares, Marques de Carpio, de Coria, de Elleha, de La Motta, de San Leonardo, de Sarria, de Tarazona, de Villaueva del Rio, de Villaneuva del Fresno, de Barcarrota et de la Algaba, Conde de Lemis, de Lerin, Sondestable de Navarra, de Monterey, de Osorno, de Miranda del Castaar, de Andrade, de Ayala, de Fuentes de Valdespar, de Gelves, de Villalba, de San Estebau de Gormaz, de Fuentiduena, de Cassarubios del Mote, de Calve, a de Sirmela.

Wonder if a man with a name like that can travel around with him without being held up for "excess baggage?"

The city council of Philadelphia has ratified the contract by which the city will acquire from the government the Hog Island shipyard tract for $3,000,000 for development as an air, rail and marine terminal. Isn't it rather late in the year for Uncle Sam to put on a Santa Claus act?

Senator Blaine, of Wisconsin, says that when congress convenes following next fall's election, he will ask for hearings on his resolution for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and press for a vote. If that doesn't stir up the senatorial animals, nothing will.

A lot of people, who do not stop to consider the manner in which they are selected, naturally experience difficulty in understanding why it is that a good-looking girl so seldom is chosen for a queen of this festival or that or as an entrant in a beauty contest.

Editorial Opinion.

THE COST OF ELECTIONS.

Ever since the election of Newberry as a senator from Michigan the senate has kept a watchful and jealous eye upon expenditures in senatorial elections. Mr. Newberry's modest budget of less than $200,000 eventually forced him out of public life. Because Frank Smith, of Illinois, not only spent twice as much, but received contributions from companies which had business with the state commission of which he was a member, the senate denied him his seat. Because Mr. Vare, of Pennsylvania, spent nearly $800,000 in 1926, he was not admitted to the body to which he was elected. But the present costs of senatorial campaigning in Illinois and Pennsylvania prove that the heart of the evil has not been reached. With great newspapers and powerful machines supporting her, Mrs. McCormick spent $252,000 of her own money in Illinois. And in Pennsylvania Senator Grundy put $291,000 of his own funds in what proved to be an unsuccessful campaign.

Decidedly, senatorial politics remains a rich man's game. The senate has not yet shown any poor man how to make a successful race for a place in its membership. If a poor man happens to have the support of a great political organization, he may get off—as Secretary Davis, who is not a poor man, did—with a personal contribution of $10,000. But unless the influential bosses are behind him, in certain states he has no chance at all. Yet what can be done about it? Senate inquiries and inspections have merely cut down direct expenditures in Pennsylvania and Illinois; the money is still lavishly spread in those states. For fifty days the thousands of members of the Philadelphia organization, their families and their allies out in the state devoted much of their time to the cause of Secretary Davis. If they had been paid for their time by the Vare-Davis committee, as Senator Grundy paid his workers, the sum might have reached more than $1,000,000. They received their compensation in other ways, but that does not alter the system. The same thing was true of McCormick workers in Illinois.

Under the direct primary, Senator Grundy sees no alternative but unlimited spending. He does not believe, he told the committee, in attempted curbs of any kind. That he personally spent in pursuing a nomination $231,000 more than he would have received in salary for six years did not impress him as any affair of congress or of the people. Undoubtedly Mr. Vare agrees with him. The senate can not go on barring rich men who have the money to spend against machine-backed candidates who can summon paid helpers. But can and should congress attempt to define the categories in which money may be spent, eliminating paid workers at the polls? That would be unfair to non-machine candidates. Can congress attempt to set up limits of expenditure? Circumventions of the law will be found. So long as the direct primary is maintained the effort to take office from the auction-block seems hopeless.—New York Times.

ONCE MORE TO CONFERENCE.

Again the much-disliked tariff bill gits a snag and goes back to the conference committee, through whose unwarranted action, according to the opinion of the vice president on a point of order, the snag was set in its pathway.

Does anybody really want this bill to pass, with the exception of selfish interests which are convinced that it will bring money into their coffers? Does any farmer imagine that the bill, in its entire effect, can better his position, in comparison with that of other industries? Does any merchant think that it will increase the buying capacity of the masses and thus spur up business?

Has any tariff bill ever before framed won so little support in the press, even of the party responsible for it? Has any tariff bill heretofore been so frequently denounced by newspapers traditionally favorable to the protective tariff policy?

When congress tossed aside the conservative warning it had from the White House at the outset, as to tariff legislation, it made serious trouble for itself. If it goes on and passes this monstrosity of a bill, it will make still more serious trouble for the country.

The best thing that could happen to the bill would be its failure to get past the snags into which it is daily running. The next best thing, if it ever comes to the president's table, would be a veto. Existing tariff rates are high enough, and the country does not want to risk the ruin of its great foreign markets, in addition to its other business troubles.—Columbus Dispatch.

Ivy Poisoning Spoils Holiday.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

In the early days of summer we all look forward to walking in the fields and woods seeking wild flowers. Among the friendly flowers and plants, there is one that is a positive enemy to men. This is "poison ivy," so-called. Its scientific name is "Rhus Toxicodendron."

Every lover of nature should know something about botany. To know the names of the wild flowers and plants, and to be able to recognize them on sight, is a help. To have this knowledge is a real pleasure.

The poison ivy plant may be just a little shrub, two or three feet high, or it may stand as high as a man's head. When next to a stone wall or tree it grows as a vine.

You should not be ignorant of the identity of the plant. It will save you much suffering if you are sure to avoid contact with it. It has a bright green, glossy leaf and is made up of leaves in groups of three or, as the botanist will tell you, it is "trifoliate." The stem of the middle leaf is always longer and two or three times larger than the stems of the other two leaves.

A suggestion was recently made that we have a "Kill the Poison Ivy" week. That isn't a bad idea. If poison ivy could be eliminated how much more pleasure every one would have in roaming the countryside.

Like other weeds and plants, poison ivy spreads easily. It is necessary to get rid of it at the source. It is a plant whose roots extend underground so far that it is laborious work to fight it. To get rid of it the fight will have to be carried into private as well as public ground.

One effective method suggested for exterminating this ivy is to grub it out by the roots. But, as has been suggested, this is dangerous for the grubber unless great care is taken.

The first thing noticed after exposure is a burning and intense itching of the skin which has been touched. There is redness and small blisters form. As they increase in size and number they may become infected. In some cases there is fever and prostration.

The poison is usually carried by the hand to the face. Sometimes the face becomes greatly swollen and the eyes may become affected.

If you have been out in wild places, pushing in and out of the wild shrubs and vines, it is just as well to wash the face and hands upon your return, using plenty of soap and water. Sometimes the poison does not show its effects for a day or so, so do not wait for unpleasant symptoms.

Alkaline solutions are good for local applications in ivy poisoning. Among these are baking soda, borax or ammonia in water. A weak solution of carbolic acid is also good. Hyposulphite of soda is also a good remedy when made into a solution with water. Apply any of these remedies frequently to the affected parts.—Copyright, 1930, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

From Our Readers.

KNEW HIM WELL.

Editor Star—Through your editorial in the Star of today we learn with great regret of the death, last Monday in our former home town, San Pedro, California, of our good friend, Judge William H. Savage.

Many stories of happenings during his long and colorful life has he told us and one of his proudest possessions was a letter he received from Admiral George Dewey shortly after the battle of Manila bay, in which the admiral said he recalled the judge very clearly as a marine back in the days when he, himself, was a lieutenant.

This letter was framed and hung on the wall of Judge Savage's law office at the door of which I often stopped for a moment's chat with him. Ever he had a cheery, kind word for all.

An honest, upright, God-fearing man was our friend, Judge William H. Savage and we mourn his passing.

May he rest in peace!

Matter and Energy.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

Unity! That is the watchword of the new science. The researches of the past two decades all point unmistakably to some sort of universal junction and unification of the forces of nature. Many inconsistencies and discrepancies have yet to be explained; many gaps in the argument remain yet to be filled in. But we are beginning to realize matter and energy, for example, are two distinct entities, the one inert, the other dynamic, but that they are united in some close and indissoluble bond.

The various phenomena associated with matter, in earlier days of science, were regarded as emanations or properties or qualities of matter. Gravity used to be regarded as a property of matter, but Einstein has given a new slant to the problem by discovering that gravitation is a property of space-time.

Energy used to be regarded, likewise, as a property of matter, but the newer scientific theories have changed all that. The emphasis has been taken off matter and placed upon energy. It is energy which is the active partner in the firm. A gram of matter may disappear, but in doing so it gives rise to an amount of ergs represented by the number nine followed by twenty ciphers!

In the old days there were two separate laws, regarded as solid and stable as the Rock of Gibraltar. These were the laws of the conservation of matter and of the conservation of energy. Today, under the modern unifying principle, we have the single law of the conservation of matter-energy.

It is virtually impossible to verify the new principle, because of the smallness of the quantities involved, in the laboratory, or the largeness of the quantities involved in the inter-stellar spaces, thus taking the chemical reaction known as that of the union of oxygen and hydrogen. In the formation of eighteen grams of water the decrease in mass would be only about one part in 6,000,000,000. In the case of the sun, on the other hand, the total energy radiated by seconds by the sun, if converted into mass, gives the enormous figure of 4,000,000 tons per second.

Thus radiation is responsible for a diminution in the mass of the sun and all the other stars at a truly terrific rate of speed. Yet, relatively speaking, this diminution is slow, since, in the case of the sun, it is likely to continue for some 10,000,000,000,000 years!

Among the most impressive and convincing of modern physical experiments are those dealing with the gravitational and inertial properties of matter. They were conducted, with extraordinary precision, by Eoetvaer, by means of a torsion. He demonstrated the proportionality of weight and inertia. For most substances he showed that weight and inertia were proportional to an accuracy of one part in 200,000,000. Thus equal weights have equal inertias, and likewise exhibit the same acceleration under the influence of gravity.

As Heyl concludes, in his "New Frontiers of Physics," evidence of this nature shows us that energy must be regarded as possessing both of the characteristic attributes of matter, and that matter may be converted into energy with a definite numerical relation between them. — Copyright, 1930, International Feature Service, Inc.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, May 31.—Parties for children in New York are reaching amazing plans of splendor. Several shops on Park and Madison avenues specialize in arranging these affairs, furnishing decorations and favors. No detail is overlooked to make them original.

The shops furnish unusual invitations, suggest and provide menus, the favors and entertainers. Those who desire may send hand-painted invitations, highly appropriate costing as high as three dollars each. They have a likeness in water color of favored guests.

A crew of decorators will transform the home or lawn into a fitting background for any childish revel, carrying out the entertainment motif even to uniformed servants. Among entertainers are clowns, magicians, trick donkeys, performing cats, parrots and dogs.

The performers charge from $10 to $25 for their acts and the average cost of the entire party ranges from $10 to $25 a child. This includes a gift for each child and prizes in game contests and surprise favor bags. The most expensive children's party of the year totaled $2,500.

This was given at a Long Island estate for fifty poor little rich. It was a complete circus under a fair-sized tent, with a sawdust ring, acrobats, clowns, trapezists and, to complete the illusion, John Ringling, a friend, sent one of his performing elephants.

As an onlooker at a children's party recently the most distinct impression was the unusual politeness among young moderns. There was not a fight, a smacking or even a single quarrel, although none was more than seven. They gave no impression of being little Rollos either.

My memory of children's parties was of hair pullings and face scratching, and almost every one going home a little giddy from ice-cream, cake and candy to have cod liver oil poured down thankless gullets. They used to tell of one boy whose mother inquired: "And what did my little man do at the party?" The wan youngster replied proudly: "I frowed up."

New style dresses demand a corset—and the corset—remindful of the French proverb: "The more it changes, the more it is the same thing"—is back to original portions. The most expensive corset ever worn was owned by Lillian Russell, cost nearly $4,000.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

Dean Russell, Teachers' college, Columbia, says: "When we are children we have no animosity at all toward children of other nations." What happens when we are grown up and become the wise men of the realm to make us give so much time to preparing for war? Well, despite all the youngsters who go astray, nearly all the deliberate evil in the world is the product of expert middle age.

The hope of a better world lies in ideals, even if those ideals are no more than illusions. Youth has ideals. Youth has illusions. Despite silly mistakes young people have more hope, faith, love and idealism by a thousand times than have older folks. Too many of us, as we grow older, lose our illusions, our ideals. We become only practical. Practical people build bath-rooms and radios and change the world about. They don't always improve it. Youth does not care about the practical. Youth thinks of happiness. Perhaps somehow, sometime, youth in spite of practical elders who think in terms of pipe and stovepipes, may achieve a happier world.

After all, no matter what you propose to do about public and social questions, religion is a private matter. What you believe and how you worship are your own concerns. A famous religious society in Princeton university is to be inactive for a year. The dean of the university chapel says:

"Religion to a student is an intensely private affair and he hesitates to make public his inner attitudes. It is my private opinion that religious associations in college have not sufficiently recognized this normal reticence on the part of the majority of men. Fellowship in the more personal and intimate phase of religious experience should be kept for private, congenial groups, where sincerity can be protected from publicity.

"But no normal man has any embarrassment about offering his assistance to meet some real human need. Many men in college are ready thus to offer their help, but hesitate to do so through a religious society because of the inherited prejudice against setting one's self apart."

A little boy who had lost a couple of his childish teeth at the end of a string was consoled by being told that new teeth would come in.

"But," said the little boy, "will they come in in time for supper?"

That's the usual attitude of a lot of us. The virtue the average American most lacks is patience. He wants his new teeth in time for supper tonight. Patience is not merely a negative attitude. It isn't the ability to sit and do nothing. That's laziness. Patience is the recognition that when we want things enough and give them our best effort they come through in time. Patience is the basis of serenity, of tranquillity. And tranquillity is even better than happiness. It lasts longer.

Coming Back

ATTENDANTS at the toilet goods counters are cupping their ears in an effort to assure themselves they are hearing aright these days when the fairer sex is sounding a call for perfumes in such old-fashioned scents as lilac, lily of the valley, sweet pea and even rose. Can it be that in these days of covered knees and above hip waistlines a woman's fancy turns to lavendar and old lace or has her cup run over with the "push" scents slated to do all that was expected of them? The signs indicate that there is a change in the not far offing and one need not be surprised any time to stand by and hear a request for Hoyt's German cologne.

Gorgeous lace collars, umbrellas, purses, souvenir spoons, dog collars for humans, pearl handled pens, hatpins with monograms or heavy stones, collar and cuff sets and what have you used to be the dope but after all it went pretty well with our "we have reached the bay and the ocean lies in view" days.

RAILWAY MEN VOTE FOR 30-HOUR WEEK

Nearly Million Employes of Western Roads Included in Proposed Schedule.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 31—Executives of western railroads today had official notice that future contracts with the railway employes' department of the American Federation of Labor will specify a 30 hour working week.

Nine presidents of international unions affiliated with the federation acted in notifying the company heads that a six hour day and five day week will be the policy of their organizations for all agreements involving the shopmen and maintenance of way workers, numbering nearly 1,000,000.

The federation's railway department does not embrace the "big four" train and engine brotherhoods. A change in the preamble of the department's constitution was decided upon by the union leaders in convention here to provide for the shorter work day and week. The unions' demands include compensation for the 30 hour week at the same rate the men now receive for six days.

ACCUSE EX-CONVICT OF BEATING WOMAN

Miss Clara Campbell of Mansfield Seriously Injured by Assailant.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., May 31—Seriously beaten by a man who police said probably was an ex-convict, Miss Clara Campbell 21, of Mansfield O., was found unconscious at a rural side in the outskirts of Cleveland early today. She was rushed to Lutheran hospital where it was said she may have a fractured skull.

Miss Campbell said the man forced her into his automobile while she was waiting for an interurban car to return to Mansfield shortly after midnight. He speeded into the country.

When the girl resisted the driver he beat her on the face and body. She was unable to jump out of the car because he drove too fast.

Finally the man drove back toward the city and at Perrin Springs road and West 130th street, Miss Campbell decided to jump regardless of the cars speed. She suffered additional injuries as she crashed to the pavement and was knocked unconscious.

The crew of a Big Four railroad switching engine witnessed the girl's escape and obtained the license number of the auto. Police later said the license had been issued to a former convict with a notorious address.

The railroad men hailed a passing motorist and took the girl to the hospital where she was identified by her sister, Miss Bertha Melcher, a nurse there. Miss Campbell recovered consciousness and told of the attack.

Brush Story Makes Good Movie

"YOUNG MAN OF MANHATTAN" was transformed literally from book form to the screen and affords good entertainment. It is at the Palace for the last times today.

The story by Katherine Brush, known in Marion, is said to be a cross section of her life. Claudette Colbert, brunette and charming, is well cast as the girl who makes more money by her writing than her husband Norman Foster. Charles Ruggles can always be depended on for laughs.

Claudette and Norman are married after a whirlwind courtship and immediately he has to go to St. Louis to cover the World series. While he's gone she receives an offer to write a series of stories in Hollywood to the tune of $200 per effort.

Norman objects to his wife earning more money than he does as a sports writer, but knowing that bills must be paid, she writes the checks. He meets a "cigaret me, biz boy" girl and they have several whoopee parties together while Claudette is completing arrangements to go to Hollywood.

They have a quarrel because Norman goes to a nightclub, comes home intoxicated and lies to Claudette about it. He goes to Florida and she goes to Hollywood. She returns before he does and drinks some liquor which he intended to take with him but left in the apartment. The liquor has stood for a while and is poison. Claudette goes blind.

The finish of the show is fine. There are times when we wish they'd give Charles Ruggles a feature picture all his own—he's such a good wise cracker.

Thousands Work To Keep River Within Confines

By The Associated Press

ALEXANDRIA, La., May 31—With several thousand persons already suffering from effects of a flood emergency crews fought today to keep the Red river from washing over valuable farm lands and homes on the outskirts of this city.

The danger spot was at the junction of Bayou Rapides and Saline Bayou near Lamothe. A crevasse fifteen feet wide and three feet deep was washed out and it was feared another break would overflow homes and cultivated acres.

Workers drove piling and heaped sandbags in the opening today in the belief that if the weak place could be held for another 18 hours the danger would be past. Continued clear weather was expected to aid materially.

By The Associated Press

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 31—President Hoover today welcomed an opportunity for rest and fishing on the estate of Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, deep in the fastness of the Allegheny Mountains.

Only a special telephone connection with the White House linked him with official duties as the well stocked streams flowing through the estate lured him to his favorite sport of angling.

Tomorrow, starting at an early hour, he plans to return to the capital by automobile, stopping enroute to lunch at the camp of his secretary, Lawrence Richey, near Thurmont, Md.

The ancient lodge which he reached at sundown yesterday after delivering his Memorial day address at Gettysburg National Cemetery and driving more than 250 miles, nestles in a deep, cool valley of virgin timber upon Larry's Creek. It is 20 miles in the mountains from Williamsport and five miles from the nearest public highway.

ELECTRICIANS LOSE TO SHOVEL NINE

HUBER SLUGGERS IN WIN OVER FAIRFIELD

Erie Roundhouse Gets Seven Hits to Defeat Osgood; Four Games Played in Indus Loop.

THE Marion Steam Shovel team, with Bacon doing his work on the mound, administered the second straight beating of the season to the weak C., D. & M. electricians. The Shovel Industrial team won the game by a score of 7 to 5.

The winners brought in four counters in the first inning but were shut out for the next two. The losers hacked away at the four run lead in the first two frames and scored two runs in each to tie it up.

The Shovel gang apparently thought it time to go to work again in the fourth for they clouted the opposing hurler hard to bring in three more runs, more than enough to win the game.

The electricians continued to batter away at the Shovel lead but could produce but one run in the late innings to bring their score to 5.

The Shovel team hit safely several times after their big fourth but did not bunch them enough to bring in any more runs.

Score by innings:

Shovel	100 300 x—7
C., D. & M.	022 010 0—5

Batteries: Shovel, Bacon and Andrews. C., D. & M., Rothensperger and Wiley.

Huber Sluggers Win

The hard hitting Huber nine gained a 5 to 3 decision over the Fairfield Engineering Co. team in another of the Industrial league games played Thursday. The winners continued the clubbing escapade which has marked the first two starts and bunched their six hits to good advantage to run in five scores.

The losing team outhit the Huber nine but their blows were scattered enough to keep their scoring efforts to a minimum. Corbin banged out three hits for the losers in three times at the plate to account for nearly half of the losers' seven hits. He got a triple, a double and a single.

The losers took a lead on the Huber at the beginning of the game and played on at least even terms until the game was well along. The sluggers of the Huber lineup unlimbered later in the game and brought in three runs in a single inning to win the ball game.

Score by innings:

Huber	001 130 0—5
Fairfield	100 001 1—3

Batteries: Huber, Crabtree and Wilson. Fairfield, James and Corbin.

Wins With Seven Hits

Seven hits for the Erie roundhouse bunch was enough to bring about a 5 to 4 beating for the Osgood Steam Shovel nine who connected for but four safe blows for the game.

The Roundhouse nine started scoring with the start of the game. Before the first three men had been retired for their side they had crossed the plate with a brace of counters.

They were not able to score again in the second inning. In the third Robbins got his bat behind one of Baumgartners' fast ones and banged it out of the field for the first homer of the game. Another hit following, combined with an error gave the winners two more runs in the third inning.

The losers marked up their first successful efforts to score in the third when they chased a man across the plate with the single score of the inning. They added three more in the fifth but their rally was cut short before they were able to gain a lead on the eventual winners.

In the sixth inning the Roundhouse put the game on ice with a walk and a three bagger.

Score by innings.

Roundhouse	202 001 0—5
Osgood	001 030 0—4

Batteries: Osgood, Baumgartner, Corwin and Cleveland; Roundhouse, Shoemaker and Hinklin.

C. & O. Loses Third

The C. & O. railroaders continued their losing habits by dropping game with the Erie Yardmen by a 4 to 1 score. It was the third straight loss for the C. & O. nine.

Both hurlers pitched a good game of ball but Stout of the Yardmen slightly outshone the losing pitcher, Gruber. No hits are listed in the official scorebook so it is impossible to give either the hurlers or the teams the credit that is probably due them. The losers scored their one run in the second inning.

Batteries for the team were: Yardmen, Stout and Adams. C. & O., Gruber and Augenstine.

Yanks, Tigers Engineer Big Baseball Trade

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 31—On the theory that a change of scenery may prove beneficial, the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees have completed a five-player trade, the biggest baseball transaction of the season, the Yankees have given up Waite Hoyt, veteran right handed pitcher, and infielder Mark Koenig for Owen Carroll, pitcher; Harry Rice, outfielder, and George Wuestling, infielder.

Hoyt and Koenig were main springs in the pennant winning Yankee machines of 1926-27-28 but Manager Bob Shawkey apparently believes they have outlived their usefulness. Both had been said disappointments this year just as Carroll and Wuestling have been to Manager Bucky Harris of the Tigers.

Silver street schools' ball team won an easy 11 to 1 victory over the Pearl street nine Thursday afternoon. Justender and Huggins for the winners, played the best game.

MARION TO CLASH WITH KIBLER NINE

ON THE INSIDE

With

Bob Kirkpatrick

IF MARION baseball fans who have been yelling for a good ball club to represent the city in semi pro circles want to keep the present fast working Marion Merchant lineup intact, they will have to click the turnstiles at Lincoln park oftener in the future than they have done in the past. Attendance at the last Sunday game between the Columbus Keystones and the locals was better than it has been for some time in the past but it is still not enough to enable the backers of the team to keep the present lineup on the field and still break even on the revenue end of the game.

The Merchants look like the makings of a good ball club. By that we don't mean just ordinary but much better than the average semi pro club of cities of the size of Marion. The Merchants have gathered together a bunch of good ball players. They may not win all the games they play this year. In fact, it will be quite unexpected if they do. Ball clubs much better than they are have been beaten but the Merchants won't be beaten without a real fight. They deserve the support of the baseball fans of Marion. Go and see the Merchants battle the Kibler Clothes of Springfield tomorrow at Lincoln park. It will be a good ball game.

FOR the benefit of those individuals who have been clamoring for some time for the issuance of the 1930 official baseball schedule and rule book, Elmer Shaw, assistant secretary of the city baseball commission has asked that the public be advised that the books are now at the Y ready for distribution. Each organization supporting a team in any city league is eligible to receive 10 copies of the book. Other interested individuals may also get copies for the asking.

The book represents a departure from the old method of listing the playing schedule. Instead of listing the games in chronological order as they will be played, the first and second rounds are listed together. When the first round is completed the teams will start over again and go through the identical playing routine. This manner of listing requires less space and also is less complicated.

A few new features have been added to the publication which add distinctly to both its appearance and its value. The book as a whole is a decided improvement over that of former years.

TRIBE LOSES SLUGGER

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 31—Lew Fonseca, the American league's leading batter last year and slugging first baseman of the Cleveland Indians, will be lost to the Tribe for six to eight weeks because of a broken arm. Fonseca was hurt when he collided with Art Shires of Chicago here last Wednesday, but until an X-ray was taken yesterday, it was believed he suffered nothing more than a sprain.

Arthur "Red" Herring, new pitcher with the Detroit Tigers, fanned 13 batters in a single game last year while hurling for Oklahoma City in the Western league.

SMASHUPS FEATURE 500-MILE CLASSIC

Billy Arnold Drives Way to Victory Unchallenged; One Fatally Hurt.

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31 — Youthful Billy Arnold of Chicago, wheeling his gray straight eight about the bricks at 100.448 miles an hour, turned the annual 500-mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway into a parade in which he rode to victory unchallenged.

The 23-year-old boy took the lead after two laps and held it all the way to the checkered flag which made him richer by $32,150. Cheered on by a record crowd of 170,000 he finished three laps in front of William "Shorty" Cantolon of Detroit.

The fans who flocked to the speedway for the thrills got them in an unprecedented series of accidents which left but fourteen survivors out of the starting field of 38 cars. One fatality resulted, Paul Marshall of Detroit, riding as mechanician for his brother, Cy Marshall of Indianapolis, was fatally hurt when their car crashed into a retaining wall on the hazardous north turn. The racing machine plunged over the edge of the banked turn and fell 25 feet to the ground. The driver, tossed clear of the wreckage, was in a critical condition in an Indianapolis hospital today.

Six Cars in Wreck

Deacon Litz, driver of Debois, Pa., and Aaron T. Vance, of Indianapolis, riding as mechanic for Chester Gardner of Pittsburgh, also were injured on the north turn in a smashup that wrecked seven cars. A collision between Fred Roberts, Danville, Ill., driving as relief for Peter Depaolo, and Marion Trexler of Indianapolis, piled up five other machines, those of Litz, Gardner, Johnny Seymour, Escenaba, Mich., Babe Stapp, Los Angeles, and Lou Moore of Los Angeles.

Although predictions were general before the race that the new rules in effect this year which brought back the riding mechanic, eliminated the supercharger, enlarged the field and lifted the restrictions on piston displacement, would slow the racing time, only the seven car smashup prevented Arnold from setting a new track record.

With the north turn covered with wreckage, race officials ordered the contestants merely to hold their positions at slow speed for four minutes while the course was cleared.

The treat of foreign competition in the 500-mile race from two Italian made cars, failed to materialize when one, Baconi Borzucchini's 16-cylinder creation developed ignition trouble before 25 miles were completed, and Letterio Cucinotta was waved off the course with 40 miles yet to go, after the first ten drivers had finished.

Reds Split Double Bill With Pittsburgh Pirates

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

IN a pair of pennant races as close as those the two major leagues have been through the early part of the season, the results of the double headers of Memorial day came as something of a surprise. Eight pairs of games were played yesterday, and only two were divided, while the rest figured to a considerable extent in shaking up the standings.

Cincinnati, with Red Lucas outpitching Leon Cheagnon, took the morning game from Pittsburgh, 9 to 1. In the afternoon the Reds gave away a lead, then came strong, but lost 7 to 6. The Chicago Americans had to go to ten innings to win the first game, 7 to 4, but they failed to give Ted Lyons proper support in the second, committing six errors, and the Browns pulled out a 4 to 3 victory.

Robins Gain in Race

Brooklyn's slugging Robins accomplished the most in two games, going from a tie for first place in the National league to a two game lead by beating the Phillies 11 to 1 and 11 to 9. The Robins hammered out 27 hits in the two contests. The Chicago Cubs refused to let their troubles get the best of them and took two games from the St. Louis Cardinals. They won the first 2 to 0 behind Charley Root's fine pitching, but lost Rogers Hornsby, who fractured an ankle sliding into a base. But still Chicago kept on fighting and took a ten inning afternoon contest, 9 to 8, going into a tie in games with Pittsburgh for third place.

The Boston Braves brought about another change in the National league standing as they took two 6 to 5 decisions from the New York Giants on late rallies. The Braves pulled out the first game with two runs in the ninth inning then repeated the act in the second, scoring the winning run in the final frame after Wally Berger's twelfth home run had tied it up in the eighth. As the result of the double victory Boston went to fifth place and New York to sixth.

Senators Lead Out

The Philadelphia Athletics clipped Washington's margin of leadership from three games to one by defeating the Senators, 7 to 6 and 15 to 11. The first game went 13 innings before it was decided.

The New York Yankees, getting off to a fine start as Babe Ruth hit his fifteenth home run of the year on his first appearance at the plate moved into third place by a three-point margin by beating the Boston Red Sox 6 to 5 and 7 to 3. Homers figured largely in the Yankee triumphs although the pitching of Herb Pennock and Charley Ruffing also had a lot to do with Boston's 12th and 13th successive defeats.

Detroit's Tigers broke the three way tie for the top of the second division and sent the Cleveland Indians below the Yankees by winning a pair of games by scores of 5 to 2 and 9 to 6.

OHIO HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEN PERFORM WELL IN PRELIMS

Dayton Roosevelt Colored Star Breaks Record in 220 Low Hurdles.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 31 — Ohio High school boys did well in the national interscholastic track meet preliminaries yesterday, indicating they would be battling for championships and new records with the nation's best during the finals today.

Amsden Oliver, negro from Roosevelt High school, Dayton, led them all by breaking the national interscholastic record for the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.6 seconds. Jack Keller, of East High school, Columbus, set the record at 24 seconds last year but Oliver left nothing of it as he scampered over the low barriers.

Oliver also led qualifiers in the 120-yard high hurdles with his time of 15.1 seconds and was favored to win both events today.

Three Ohio lads qualified for finals in both the shot put and discus throw. Vic Blum of Tiffin, Ohio champion and record holder in the discus; Clarence Griffen of Columbus Central and Bob Schuster, of Mansfield, were the trio. Davis, of Cleveland East Tech, Ohio champion and record holder in the shot, also qualified for his event while Smith of Salem, a discus thrower, also made the grade.

Ed Beck of Salem and Lowry of Toledo Scott survived trials in the pole vault while Fred Glickert, bespectacled Toledo Scott athlete, was listed among the successful high jumpers. Both of Dayton Roosevelt in the javelin and Bacon of Mansfield in the high hurdles were also in form.

FAVOR OBERLIN TO WIN BIG SIX MEET

1929 Champions of Ohio Colleges Qualify 13 Men in Early Trials.

By The Associated Press

WOOSTER, O., May 31—Oberlin college's track team, defending its championship of the annual Big Six meet, was in a highly favorable position today to argue with pretenders to its crown, having qualified 13 athletes for the finals of the 15 events during the preliminaries.

Coach Dan Kinsey's boys scored heavily as trials were held in nine events yesterday, just to prove they weren't fooling and that advance indications of their strength were authentic.

Wooster's track and field men, who were second to Oberlin by two and one-half points last year, earned seven places in today's finals as a result of trials in the dashes, hurdles and field events. However, several teams were expected to be between Wooster and Oberlin by the time the meet is over today.

BREAKS CENTURY RECORD

By International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., May 31—Stella Walsh, Cleveland girl runner, held a new record of 10 and S-10 today for 100 yards. She broke the former record in the annual A. O. H. meet here yesterday. The old record was 11 and 1-5 seconds, made by Eleanor Robinson.

SPRINGFIELD OUTFIT PLAYS HERE SUNDAY

Manager Bacon Signs Additional Hurler To Strengthen Local Mound Corps.

THE Marion Merchants ball club will be out to make it three wins in a row for the season when they clash with the highly touted Kibler Clothes of Springfield in the Sunday contest at Lincoln park. The teams are booked to play at 2:30 p. m.

If the locals succeed in disposing of the invading nine, they will be doing much better than the local semi-pro aggregation was able to do in the opening game of the 1929 season in Marion. The Kibler Clothes administered a sound drubbing to the local city team in last season's opener. This year's team is not the same that took to the field for the game last season though and it should be a different story. The Merchants have improved vastly over last season and should give the Kiblers more than they bargained for in the way of a ball game.

Marion Signs Hurler

In an effort to add to the strength of the Merchants' hurling corps, Manager Bacon has signed a new pitcher from Bellefontaine, Richardson by name, to help McCracken take care of the work on the mound. McCracken has turned in two creditable performances thus far but Richardson should give the team added confidence.

The Kibler outfit is bringing a bunch of sluggers to play here Sunday. Aside from a team of hard hitters, they have a pitcher who has been going "great guns" for them in their three present season games. Lucas has won all the games he has hurled this season and figures to give the Marion boys plenty to look when they take their trips to the plate. He has allowed but 12 hits three games this year as well as batting around .320. He has fanned men in the three games.

He will be supported in an manner by several teammates who have been hitting everything there anywhere near to the plate in the games this season. Two college stars "Dorey" Vreeger of Wittenberg and Tom Costello of Miami will do the stuff at the first and second bags. They are reputed to be a clever pair of ball players. Several other pro performers of note will accompany the Kibler team here on their "busting escapade."

DO YOU WASH THE DISHES "NEARLY CLEAN?"

You wouldn't think of tolerating partial cleanliness for your dishes. Why should you tolerate it in your rugs and carpets?

There is only one way to have thoroughly-clean floor coverings. That is to get out all the dirt, not just the surface dust, but the grease-packed grit that is below the dust line.

Only beating will remove this embedded grit. And only The Hoover has a beating principle—Positive Agitation—to shake it out.

There are two wonderful new Hoovers offering greatly increased efficiency at no increase in price. Model 725, the finest cleaner ever built, is 25% more efficient than any previous Hoover. Model 575, selling at a popular price, is more efficient than any other cleaner at any price.

Ask us for a free trial or a home demonstration of The Hoover and its efficient dusting tools. Only $6.25 down; balance monthly. Liberal allowance for your old cleaner.

SALESMAN AWARDED VERDICT FOR $1,000

Common Pleas Court Jury Finds Against Teacher in Accident Case.

A verdict of $1,000 for Arthur W. Manheim, Cleveland salesman, was returned by a jury Thursday in common pleas court in his suit for $5,000 damages against Jean Hamilton, Greenwood school teacher, as the result of an automobile accident two years ago on the Harding Highway west of the city.

The accident occurred when the machine driven by Miss Hamilton collided with that of Manheim at the intersection of the highway with the DeCliff road. Miss Hamilton, according to witnesses, was driving north and made a right-hand turn on the main highway into the path of Manheim's car, the latter swerving from the impact and going into a ditch.

Occupants of Miss Hamilton's machine were unhurt but Manheim sustained injuries that prevented him from working for several weeks, he said on the stand.

The law firm of Guthery, Strelitz & Guthery represented the plaintiff and Clark & Arter was counsel for Miss Hamilton.
